

RING STACK

WHERE: Marsh & Parsons, 2-6 Kensington Park Road

WHAT: Unveiling of the Ring Stack sculpture

WHY: The 7.5 metre high sculpture on the roof of the Marsh & Parsons' Notting Hill office building, designed by Adam Barker Mill, was commissioned by the Notting Hill Gate Improvements Group to reflect the importance of Notting Hill as one of London's cultural hubs and to commemorate the Jubilee and Olympic year. Peter Rollings, Chief Executive of Marsh & Parsons, said: "Notting Hill has long had an inventive and arty community and the Ring Stack is a fitting celebration of this creative identity... We are delighted to support the NHIG's efforts to highlight Notting Hill's cultural character."

The Mayor of Kensington & Chelsea (and his wife) and Keith Gorny (Marsh & Parsons)

Marsh & Parsons Notting Hill

Tim Harrison

Tim Burke, Project Manager, Notting Hill Improvements Group

Ray & Paul

Liza-Jane Kelly (Marsh & Parsons)

ON THE RIVER

WHERE: Oyster Pier, Lombard Road, SW11 3RP

WHAT: The Oyster Pier launch party, in partnership with Bective Leslie Marsh

WHY: This party took place on the outdoor terrace of the nearby Hotel Rafayel Battersea to celebrate the launch of the luxury residential barges in the heart of London; Oyster Pier gives buyers a unique opportunity to create a bespoke floating home in a community of ten barges. Guests arrived by chauffeured boat service from Chelsea Harbour and Cadogan Pier.

Richard Tracey London Assembly Member, Chris Atherton from Oyster Pier

Jeremy Walsh, Celine Brill from BLM

Laurent Lakatos from Lonres & Benson Beard from Bective Leslie Marsh

Guests arriving by chauffeured boat service

www.oysterpier.com